SHOCKED TO DEATH

BY A LIVE WIRE

Young Miner at Mercur Almost Instantly Killed in Golden Gate Mine.

(Special to The Tribune.) MERCUR, Feb. 19 .- At the Golden Sate mine at 9:30 o'clock this evening William P. Walters lost his life. From information obtainable it appears that Walters, in a spirit of daring, took hold of a live signal wire running from the seventh drift to the engine-room and was electrocuted. His companion, Herbert Cooley, narrowly escaped with his Cooley, whose duty it is to attend to the signal wire, made the usual signal to the engineer at the top of the drift. He received a shock of electricity. He received a shock of electricity. Young Walters laughed at him, stepped forward and took held of the wire with both hands standing in front of Cooley, who still had his hand on the wire. Instantly Walters doubled up and pitched violently toward Cooley. The latter extricated himself from the wire and with difficulty loosened the hold which young Walter had on the wire. Medical aid was summoned, but when Dr. Thayer arrived he found that young Walters was dead.

Walters was 25 years old, unmarried.

office at Washington, and the following reply received:

"Corporations are not entitled to the free use of forest reserve timber, nor are individuals allowed free use of forest reserve timber for any purposes other than those mentioned in the provisions of law regarding free use.

"The provisions of the law relative to said matter are as follows: The Secretary of the Interior may permit, under regulations to be prescribed by him, the use of timber and stone upon such reservations, free of charge, by bona fide settlers, miners, residents, etc., for lirewood, fencing, building, mining, prespecting and other domestic purposes, as may be needed by such persons for such purposes to be used in the State where such reserves are located.

"For the purpose of preserving the living and growing timber and promoting the younger growth on forest reservations, the Secretary of the Interior under such roles and regulations as he may prescribe, may cause to be designated and appraised so much of the dead, nature or larger rowth of trees found upon such forest reservations as may be compatible with the utilization of the forests thereon, and may sell the same.

"You are advised, however, that applications for taking young evergreen sapings for planting should be submitted to the department, with report of the Forest Supervisor."

MT PLEASANT OLD FOLKS.

A Day's Exercises for Their Entertainment-A Pleasant Time.

(Special to The Tribune.) MT. PLEASANT, Feb. 19.-Yesterday was old folks' day, and they celebrated the occasion in grand style. At I o'clock in the afternoon the people began gathering at the Union pavilion. Carriages were provided for the aged and all who could be were brought in. At 2 p. m. the ollowing very interesting programme was

The programme was followed by a dinner, and about 300 people were fed, fifty-three of them between the ages of 60 and 70, twenty-seven between 70 and 80, and 70, twenty-seven between 70 and 80, and 70, twenty-seven between 70 and 80, and 71, twenty-seven for age, the oldest man in attendance.

Mr. Neils Christensen had the distinction of being the heaviest person in the gathering, tipping the beam at 298, with Hon. Orange Seely a close second at 250, After dinner some time was spent in handshaking and renewing old friendships, and a general good time. A dance was given in the evening and was highly enjoyed by all present. A short programme was given during the evening, as follows: Song, Monsen chorus, Hon. Orange Seely was given during the evening, as follows; Song, Monsen chorus; Hon, Orange Seely danced a lig; song, 'Forty Years Ago,' Hon, W. L. Dotson, song, Miss Tressic Larson; recitation, Mr. R. Measuring the Water.

(Special to The Tribune.)

COALVILLE, Feb. 17.—A. D. Knowlton of Salt Lake City arrived here today and will work with the formers and ditch companies of this county in putting in the weirs and measuring devices in the canals. He has been sent here by State Engineer Doremus. It is estimated that it will cost the farmers of this county nearly 34,000 to comply with the new irrigation law in putting in these weirs, and a great many of them are a little reluctant about spending so much money. The weirs cost from $10 to $300, according to the size of the ditch. They will no doubt be a good thing when they are put in, but it will work a great hardship on the people. The petitioner's attorneys set forth that the law was not complied with in the matter of the proceedings in the City court. It was argued that the committing magistrate never secured jurisdiction of the case for the reason that the complaining witness was not examined by him prior to the issuance of the warrant. The State's attorneys represented that the County Attorney is empowered under the statutes to examine the complainant and authorize the issuance of the complaint and war-

The vital question involved in this matter is the construction of the statutes governing the procedure in regard to instituting criminal proceedings before a magistrate. Section 4613 of the Revised Statutes requires the magis-trate himself to examine the complain-ant under oath, and Section 4615 places upon the County Attorney certain du-ties and authority respecting the issu-ance of a warrant. It appears that in this case the investigation prior to the issuance of a warrant was made entire-ly by the County Attorney and not by the magistrate, after which the County Attorney indorsed upon the complaint his approvel of the issuance of a war-rant. It seems that this method has been commonly and generally followed by County Attorneys throughout the State in the institution of criminal proceedings. In doing so they have acted under what was supposed to be a cor-rect construction of the provisions of Section 4615. If this method be held by the Supreme court not to be a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the statute, is will require an entire and radical change in the methods hitherto pursued by the magistrates and prosecuting officers. The matter was taken under advise-
